5. What would you do to improve performance as well as standards in your team?

A perfect leader is the person who knows how to guide other members to get success and instructs team to manage itself. This encourages the whole team and improves the standards as well as performance. Friendliness, open mind and helpfulness will make the team understand and approve the purposes and direction (and standards). Only carrying out decision and controlling can't achieve the best result. Join and advise and guide whole team how to do to gain achievement. People will obtain their goals when they are encouraged and guided instead of being controlled and forced. Therefore, people will be interested in work and it is easy to reach the goals.
